

Curriculum vitae for Michael Lyng Pedersen, short version

1997, MD Aarhus university

2002, Specialist in general medicine

2011, PhD, Diabetes in Greenland, Aarhus University

2019, Doctoral thesis, Diabetes in Greenland 2008-2017, Aarhus University

Current position

Manager of National Lifestyle Initiative in Greenland, Queen Ingrid Health Care Center, Nuuk, Greenland

Adjacent clinical associate professor, Greenland Center for health research in Greenland, Institute of Nursing and Health Science, University of Greenland

Publications

>40 peer review publications in international journals

https://www.researchgate.net/profile/Michael\_Pedersen7/publications

Presentation and teaching

Several presentations at national and international scientific meetings

Teaching

Several years, teaching for nurse and medical students for years.

Research training for physicians

Since 2008, course leader of national diabetes training program in Greenland.

Supervision

Students: Medical student candidate thesis, Public health candidate thesis, PhD-thesis,

Orginational

Member of educational board, Grønlands Lægekredsforening (Doctor assembly in Greenland) 1997-98

Member of educational board, Ministry of Health and Environment, Greenland (1999-2000)

Member of board, Lægekredsforening (Doctor assembly in Greenland) 2002-2006

Member of Committee for pharmaceutical drugs in Greenland (Lægemiddelkomiteen i Greenland, 2006-2013.)

Member of board, Society of Greenlandic Medicine, Greenland division 2011-cont.

Member of Greenlandic Health Research Council, ministry of Health, Government of Greenland 2012-cont.

Member of PhD board, Institute of Nurse and Health Science, University of Greenland (2012-2018)

Prize winner

2003, Jens Peder Hard Hansen award